CEMETERY REPORT

Cemetery improvements started in 1965 has been continued this year. The road on the west side of Maple Grove was filled, graded and tarred, leaving only the short upper section of roadway to be paved at a later date. Stones were straightened (and those maintained by Trust Funds were also cleaned) in a small section of the Center Cemetery. We plan to continue doing a section a year until the entire cemetery is completed.

The Commissioners are sorry to announce that in the future there will be no burials allowed in the upper portion of Maple Grove Cemetery between November 15th and April 15th. Damage done to surrounding lots when burials are permitted between these dates makes this step necessary.

The Canterbury Fair will be held this year on July 31st with Harvey S. McGranahan acting as Chairman and John W. Hugron and Douglas L. Ruesswick as Co-Chairmen. Preparatory work is well under way with 47 men and women of the community acting as officers, chairmen or co-chairmen of the many fair activities. The Trustees urge everyone to assist in making the 1971 Fair a success. Profitable fairs will permit us to continue building up this emergency relief fund for Canterbury residents who meet with misfortune and to assist the Church in reducing the mortgage and maintaining the Parish House so that it can be available at nominal cost for community use.

CANTERBURY HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Canterbury Historical Society was organized in 1969 and incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1970. In the event the corporation is dissolved all artifacts collected by the Society become the property of the Town of Canterbury for permanent possession and will not be subject to selling or trading at any time.

The former Center School was turned over to the town in May and Society members worked diligently to clean the interior of the building, replace glass, dispose of an accumulation of old school materials, re-establish a lawn, eradicate poison ivy and collect and arrange an exhibit in time for the summer fair. Our thanks go to the many townspeople who loaned or gave family treasures for the occasion.

It is our hope that the town will approve our continued use of the building as a place to hold our monthly meetings for a token rent of one dollar ($1.00) a year. The Society is carrying liability insurance as well as fire and theft coverage on the contents. We feel that coverage on the building itself should be the responsibility of the town.

The Village Improvement Society and the Old Home Association are two organizations that are no longer active but had much the same purpose as the Historical Society. Both of the organizations have money available for civic purposes. If the three groups were to pool their resources a heating system could be put into the Museum at little or no cost to the town.

Open house was held at the Elizabeth F. Houser Museum on November 1st. Well over one hundred guests visited the Museum at that time.

The Canterbury Historical Society lists 75 charter members and the charter membership drive will continue until our annual meeting in the fall. The support of every resident or former resident is requested.

The officers of the Society are as follows:

President — Catherine Dickson
Vice-President — Priscilla Lockwood
Secretary — Virginia Dudley
Treasurer — Cynthia Olson

ELKINS PUBLIC LIBRARY

This has been The Year of Hard Work for everyone at all involved with Elkins Public Library. But it has been an especially rewarding one, for as the old year closed, we prepared to move all our youth books downstairs to the new Children's Room, to be opened to the public late in January.

This renovation has certainly loomed large in all our plans and purchases for the past year, and at last count, just over one hundred townspeople of all ages and varied talents have been involved in this project in some way. Such a number of volunteers does preclude our mentioning each individual, but our carpenters must be mentioned — without the astute purchasing of David Emerson and the services of Gerry Brill, George Sumner and Alec Standish, Canterbury would not yet have the use of this room and we would be requesting more money of you!

Local and federal funds were allocated; Elkins Library's savings account completed payment for this venture.

1970 seems to be a year of physical changes outside as well as inside the library; our front steps, long in need of repair, simply disintegrated under last year's heavy ice and consequent heavy salt. Consulting the selectmen, we all agreed that the town stood liable to replace these steps; the new town loader removed the front steps and the ill-spaced lower steps at one fell swoop. Our new library walk was included in the school hot topping program, due to the efforts of the selectmen.

The school library program has clicked right along with librarian Kay Brill at the helm; even Elkins trustees had not been aware that Mrs. Brill—Mrs. Handel before her— had been volunteering every Monday from 8:30 to 4:30 or 5 in order to adequately staff this program. We feel this is simply too much to ask of any one person on the regular basis such a program demands, and feel it should be funded in some manner—be it school or town funds — you help us figure this one out please.

We also feel that a modern day two story library requires a librarian on duty at all times that the library is open to the public. We hope this will encourage Friends of the Library to come when they can as well as to serve on Tuesday nights, for there are countless volunteer duties done much more easily with just a bit of guidance.

We shall be forever grateful to the late Marion Rudkin for all the encouragement she gave to so many of us here at the library, as well as for her very substantial gift of books each year. She leaves a great void in our town ranks, and shall be sorely missed.

Does it not strike you throughout this report that the volunteer spirit prevails? Perhaps this is the essence of present day Canterbury. As trustees, we appreciate this very much — without it, we'd clearly have no Children's Room today.

REPORT OF THE CANTERBURY VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT, INC.

The Fire Department made 19 runs during the year of 1970; 4 chimney fires, 7 grass and brush fires, 1 Mutual Aid, 3 buildings, 2 rescue, 1 town dump and 1 drill.

We expect to be able to move into larger quarters soon. At that time our training program will be activated.

At the present time we are participating in the Town Study Plan and that report will be in the final report later this year.

The Underwriters have informed us that in order to continue the lower insurance rates enjoyed within two miles of the Fire Station, the Town will have to replace our pumper next year. We will be drawing up specifications and receiving estimates for a report to the 1972 Town Meeting.

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

Canterbury, N. H.

The Planning Board met regularly each month throughout the year. In addition, various work sessions were held in connection with the long-range planning project, which continued to be the main object of the Board's attention and efforts.

We are encouraged by the amount of progress made on the project in 1970. Barring unexpected complications, the work should be completed and the report published before the end of 1971. Besides the members of the Board, more than sixty other citizens of the town have so far been involved in some phase or other of the work being done by six principal committees, divided in turn into over twenty sub-committees. Each committee meets separately, usually at least monthly, and progress reports are made at the regular meetings of the Board. A population analysis and projection was completed which suggests that the town may expect a population of about 2,200 by 1985. Much of the necessary mapping has been finished and solid progress made in the preparation of first-draft committee reports.

Early in the year we were advised that New Hampshire—Tomorrow had approved a grant of $1,000 towards the cost of preparing the plan report, on condition that the town agreed to appropriate $1,500 for this purpose. This appropriation was approved at Town Meeting in the form of a five-year, non-interest-bearing loan. As a result, the Planning Board has at its disposal a total of $2,500 to cover necessary expenses, including outside professional services and printing.

Since September, we have been privileged to have the invaluable assistance of David H. Rogers, Director of the Central New Hampshire Regional Planning Commission, who has attended our meetings since then. As a professional planner, Mr. Rogers' technical knowledge is something we lacked and sorely needed. His guidance and help in coordinating the various aspects of the effort will enable us to produce an effective plan.

One application for sub-division approval was submitted to the Board during the year. It was approved with certain conditions which the applicant had not accepted nor complied with up to this time.

CANTERBURY CONSERVATION COMMISSION

When your Conservation Commission organized we believed we needed to find what were the open space resources of Canterbury. We considered natural scenic areas, possible public snowmobile trails, public access to public ponds, and the problem of junk cars discarded all over the country side. Other considerations were recreational uses of discontinued town roads, and public interest and use of lands which the town now owns through tax title. Commission members have done considerable field investigation and contact work on these problems.

As we believed that the people of Canterbury could help us set priorities for any conservation program in town, a questionnaire was developed and mailed to the citizens of Canterbury and to many of the non-resident landowners. This questionnaire was financed by a grant from the Planning Board. The returns have been both gratifying and helpful.

Your Commission has held regular monthly meetings which are scheduled for the second Wednesday of the month. Members have attended at personal expense the following meetings: The New England Congress of Conservation Commissions, the New Hampshire Snowmobile Congress, and the Annual Meeting of the Society for Protection of New Hampshire Forests. These meetings offer many contacts, ideas, and much information helpful to the work of the Commission.

Mrs. Priscilla Lockwood has acted as observer and contact between the Commission and the town planning project of the Planning Board.

Canterbury School District Clerk

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the members of the School Board and residents of Canterbury:

Continued Federal funding under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act permitted the school district to once again offer a remedial reading program during the regular school year. Additionally, a very successful summer program, incorporating remedial mathematics along with the remedial reading program, was conducted. This program will be offered again this year — insofar as federal monies are available for its implementation. Grades 4, 6, and 8 participated in the state-wide testing program. Analysis of the data, which is just now being received, should be of great assistance in the evaluation of the elementary school programs.

With the hiring of a part-time teacher, as well as a clerical aide, it has become possible to release Mrs. Hill for more supervisory responsibilities and guidance functions. This has been most successful and has much improved the entire school operation.

The formation of the Shaker Regional School District is another example of communities getting together to solve their mutual problems. The regional school will provide a fully comprehensive junior-senior high school curriculum, as well as solving Canterbury's perennial problem of housing high school students. In addition, it will provide a coordinated educational program for grades 1 to 12.

The committees who worked so diligently on the many details of this project are to be commended in the successful conclusion of their efforts. I am sure that our young people will show their appreciation by making the utmost use of the school facilities and programs that are being planned for them.

In spite of all that has been accomplished much remains to be done. The immediate areas of concern for the new district will be the organization of the school board, preparing the budget, and finalizing building plans for district consideration. Another area of concern for the district will be the implementation of Elementary School Minimum Standards. These standards, whose implementation must begin in September 1972, will make necessary the incorporation of programs presently missing or minimal. Library services, guidance, physical education, art and music are areas that must be added or expanded to meet these requirements.

I would like to address a special word of thanks to all of the members of the school board. For their attendance at our many meetings, their devotion to the education of our children, their concern over the interests of the taxpayers, and their spirit of cooperation as a board, they deserve all our sincere appreciation.

WILLIAM B. BASTON

SCHOOL BOARD'S REPORT

The Canterbury School Board would like to extend a warm welcome to the school district's new administrative "team," Superintendent William Baston, Assistant Superintendent Redmond Carroll, and our new Principal, Mrs. Miriam Hill.

The Board would also like to express for the district deep appreciation and gratitude for the "beyond-the-normal-call" attitude and effort that has been exhibited by this team, the teaching staff, the maintenance staff, the bus drivers and their assistants, and other dedicated individuals and groups in the community during the year.

We are particularly grateful to the PTA, the Fire Department and Auxiliary, and the Landscaping and Playground Committees for their help in finishing up details of the expansion program. Their assistance has been all the more appreciated because of the involvement of the Board with the intensive study with Belmont relative to the formation of a cooperative school district.

The Board cannot adequately express its full appreciation to Everand (Skip) Young for his invaluable assistance during the past eventful year. In addition to accepting appointments to the cooperative study committee and the finance advisory committee relative to the bond issue for the school addition, later in the year he also accepted appointment as treasurer of the school district.

A word of appreciation is hereby also extended to Robert J. Hill and Alexander Standish, the other two members of the finance advisory committee, and to Sargent Goodhue, James Jordan and Don Frary as members of the cooperative study committee, all accepting appointments at the request of the Board. The assistance of all of these persons, as well as of many others, enabled the Board to once again better cope with a year of activity dominated by administrative and policy matters.

On the positive side, of course, is the study concerning cooperative arrangements with Belmont-Canterbury's fourth full-fledged study in seven years.

On the negative side comes the realization that Canterbury, despite its quiet and seemingly semi-isolated existence, is in fact not free from the general unrest and demand for social changes that have plagued our more urban neighbors to the north and south.

A growing discipline problem hopefully was slowed with the implementation of rather drastic behavior policies instituted by the Board only a few weeks prior to the end of the school year. These policies were established following a particular instance of physical abuse against a teacher by a group of middle-grade elementary children, and after several other instances of deplorable behavior on the part of Canterbury children.

Further, the total amount of cost in dollars to repair vandalism damage to the school during the school year approached $1,000. This takes into consideration the time spent in repairs, as well as the cost of the materials and supplies. That the cost should be so high is strongly indicated by the cost of window breakage alone, that figure being well into the $600 range.

Everyone who watches television or reads is aware that these are, indeed, changing times. But the awareness means nothing unless we begin to think in terms of "We are involved in changing times," instead of "They, down there, are involved in changing time and boy, have they got problems."

The Canterbury School Board has been hyperactive for several years now; the community has been well aware of one of its major school problems, the lack of permanent high school facilities. Perhaps because of this, the community, through its elected and appointed officials, should take a better look at some of the other problems that have since beset us, almost, but not entirely without warning.

Once our problem of finding permanent secondary educational facilities has been solved, we must turn our attention to some of the areas that have been neglected of late, primarily the preparation of our young people for a society that abounds with attitudes and actions that were abhorred by many only a few short years ago.

This is the next challenge of education for Canterbury, as well as for many of our neighboring towns.

ROBERT A. LOCKWOOD, Chairman

MARY ELLEN FIFIELD

GEORGE C. SUMNER

Canterbury School Board

REPORT ON THE SCHOOL ADDITION FINANCING PROGRAM

1969-1970

In order to give the Canterbury School District taxpayers and voters a more comprehensive understanding of the financial negotiations undertaken by the School Board in securing funds for the building addition, the following report is submitted.

The School District of Canterbury voted at the annual meeting on March 8, 1969 to authorize appropriation of $181,000 for an addition to the Canterbury School according to provisions of the Municipal Finance Act.

The action was prompted by a report from a building study committee previously appointed by the Board, and an architect's preliminary sketches and specifications for a building addition.

At the same meeting, the moderator was authorized to appoint a building committee of five members to work with the School Board and the architect in preparation of final plans. Members of the committee subsequently named were Robert A. Lockwood, chairman, with Mrs. Robert J. Hill, George Kopperl, Richard A. Dickson, Jr., Colin Heath and Frank S. Hallin, chairman of the Board.

After final plans were approved and requests were issued for bids for constructing the addition, the following bids were received:

R. C. Foss & Son, Inc., Pittsfield	$156,439.80*
Donald Snyder & Son, Inc., Concord	159,800.00
Community Builders, Canterbury	163,884.00
Boyce Const. Co., Inc., Portsmouth	168,500.00
Hanson Brothers, Inc., Manchester	172,800.00

Prior to construction, the Board was fortunate to obtain Alexander Standish, chairman; Robert J. Hill and Everand Young to serve as a Finance Committee to assist in the sale of the bonds. After thorough investigation of market conditions and the high interest rates which prevailed due to the inflation, the committee recommended that the sale of the bonds be delayed and the money borrowed as needed on Bond Anticipation Notes. Arrangements were negotiated for $170,000 as a loan from the New England Merchants National Bank of Boston on Bond Anticipated Notes, all to expire on June 30, 1970. These notes were non-renewable after one year by the New Hampshire State Law and the sale of bonds was to have been consummated by June 30, 1970.

On April 1, 1970, the Board authorized New England Merchants to proceed with arrangements for the sale of the bonds. Details of the issue were as follows:

Total bonds of $170,000 in increments of $5,000 each.

To mature, $20,000 the first, second, third and fourth years.

$15,000 the fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th years.

Date of sale to be May 11, 1970 at New England Merchants.

The following bids were received at the sale:

W. E. Hutton & Co.	6.20% interest*
New England Merchants Bank	6.70% interest
American Securities Corp.	6.80% interest
Nat'l Shawmut Bank of Boston	7.25% interest

When it came time to sell the bonds, your School Board was faced with some very difficult decisions. Market conditions were such that there was little or no interest in sale of 20-year bonds of such relatively small amounts as that sought by Canterbury. Evidence of this was later confirmed when offer of the 10-year issuance brought only four bids, and they with the widely spread interest rates as shown above. The Board again consulted with its finance committee and with others, and agreement was reached that it was wiser to proceed with a 10-year issue instead of one of 20 years.

Your School Board was well aware of the hardships that the accelerated payment schedule would bring to all of the taxpayers, particularly those living on limited, fixed incomes. However, also figuring deeply in the considerations of the Board were the following two points:

1. The strong probability that Canterbury would have to have even more school facilities before the end of the longer period, which would only mean another bond issue. Canterbury's original Central School lasted approximately 10 years before additions became necessary and we still have six years remaining on that 20-year bond issue.
2. Issuance of 10-year bonds instead of 20 would mean a saving of approximately $70,000 in interest costs. This would occur for two reasons — one, the length of the issuance and, two, the rate of interest. Best estimates are that a 20-year issue would command at least one percent more than a 10-year rate.

Assuming that the bonds could have been sold at a rate of 7%, with a 20-year issue and principal payments of $8,500 annually, the interest saved would have amounted to $70,600.

Principal payments made annually are reimbursed with State of New Hampshire Building Aid at 30 percent. This will total $51,000 to Canterbury over the life of the bond issue.

When the Board was authorized to raise the $181,000, it calculated annual payments over a 20-year period.

Because of the later decision to cut the payment period in half, the amount requested in the budget was not adequate to meet the resulting increase in the first-year payment. Therefor, the Board is requesting by special article in the warrant an additional appropriation of $10,500, so it will be able to meet its June 1, 1971 payment.

Your School Board, largely because of the assistance of its volunteer building and finance committee members, was able to complete the assigned project for $170,000, $11,000 less than the $181,000 authorized by the District in 1969. For this assistance, we offer our appreciation for all of the taxpayers in the District.

We trust that you will support these actions.
